The First Cable Road Accident at Seattle.

A WOMAN THROWN OFF AND KILLED

A Michigan Man Astounded at the Style Of Californians

COAST AND GEODETIC SURVEY

Counterfeits, Thieves and Indians in Montana

East Bound Shipments From San Francisco

Seattle W. T. May 12.—This afternoon at 5:30 o'clock a terrible accident occurred on the Front street cable road on the corner of Pine and Second streets. As dummy No. 2 came down the Second street hill the brake refused to work. The car obtained great momentum and in making the turn into Pine street the passengers on the left side were thrown off.

Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wagner of Charday, Neb. with two children. Mrs. Wagner had her 2-year-old child flung in her lap, and when thrown off struck on her head and neck. She was picked up and carried to the Grif 5th house, but expired before reaching the house. Her oldest child, Almo, aged 5, received severe scalp wounds. The other child and the husband escaped uninjured.

Others injured were Ed. Gill, agent of the Grimmer-Davies company, let cables sprained by A. E. Gray face and head cut.

The Wagners had just arrived in the city this morning to locate. The husband is prostrated by the accident.

The inquest will be held to-morrow. Dummy No. 2 was in charge of James McKay, assistant superintendent of the road. The brake was out of order and he could not stop the car.

A MICHIGAN MAN'S OPINION

He is Astounded at the Style of the California

San Francisco, May 12.—Isaac M. Weston, mayor of Grand Rapids, Mich. and chairman of the democratic state central committee of that state is here. He has a crisp way of refreshing one's mind with interesting facts. Speaking of the representative democracy of California, he said: "You cannot criticize him for being so far from your affections at 2:30 p.m. and holds you spellbound by his perfect delivery. There are no single furrow men among them. Nothing short of a six p.m. plow with ten horses in front and a team of oxen behind could do it. They look with contempt on a farm of less than 1000 acres. I have visited the 30,000-acre farm of U.S. Senator Stanford costing $1,000,000 in an unimproved condition. It now has a 3,500-acre vineyard, the largest in the world, in which the coopers alone cost $100,000, with a capacity of 2,000,000 gallons and 10,000 head of fine blooded stock. A little further down the Sacramento river, a wheat field of 17,000 acres forms an adjunct to his vine farm while at Palo Alto he looks up the Salinas river, the largest in California, wheat fields and stock ranges. Here his most famous horses are stabled, and here he is building the great hotel of California. It is a veritable to which he gives a two-million dollar endowment and of which I will tell you later.

We passed one where a herd of cattle belonging to another investor also one cattle ranch which includes 60,000 acres of pasture, belonging to two men, Mr. J. H. and Mr. J. H. a ten mile railroad quite an achievement. The Pacific slope has one artificial water course for feeding lumber, built of plank, several miles long for the accommodation of one company.

COAST AND GEODETIC SURVEY

Preparations Made to Send Out Several Vessels and Parties.

San Francisco, May 12.—Preparations for work on the United States coast survey have begun and several parties will start soon for different parts along the coast. Captain Rodgers and party will go south in a few days to continue the topographic survey of the coast between San Diego and San Pedro.

Captain DeLaney commanding the steamer Pacific will make a hydrographic survey south of the Oregon coast, and will make a detailed examination of the Rogue river reef.

Captain Pratt, commanding the schooner Yukon is to make a hydrographic and topographic survey of the site selected for a navy yard at Port Orchard Puget sound.

Captain Hayes commanding the schooner Esper is to make a hydrographic survey in the vicinity of Puget river.

The Alaska boundary survey parties expected to start about the 1st of June. Mr. McGrath and party will proceed up the Yukon river, while Mr. Turner and party will go to the Porcupine river to the same meridian. Both these parties expect to enter the interior of the continent.

Several other parties will probably be sent out during the summer but as yet have received no orders as to their destination.

COUNTERFEITERS AND THIEVES

Belens Infested With Gangs of These Pests to the Public Welfare

Helena, Mont., May 12.—This city is infested with a gang of burglars, shoplifters and passers of counterfeit money. The shoplifters are bold and do their work in daylight. Three are under arrest and the police are on the track of others. Most of the counterfeit money is in ten dollar bills, the design of which is that of John Allison, register of the treasury and John C. New treasurer and numbered No. A 26623. One was seized by the police last night and is now in the hands of the treasury department.

Fifty cut pieces of spout oil silver coin are also in circulation.

MONTEANA INDIANS

Whisky Bait To Be the Cause of the First

Helena, Mont., May 12.—Indian Agent Roman of the Flathead reservation contributes a long letter to the Journal to day denouncing the truth of the charges made by the Indians under his charge. He has the responsibility against the Roundhead Brothers, who conducted a trading post on the Flathead reservation and six miles from the British border and alleges that they have been engaged in an illegal trade in liquor for long quantities and that troubles have resulted from this cause.

Indian Commissioner Purcell of Canada the United States marshal and attorney of Montana and Agent Roman have been set up together for some time, in securing evidence against the men with a view of prosecuting them and their attacks upon the management of the agency are the cause of the trouble.

The matter has been referred to the U. S. court at Helena.

Kamora of More German War Ships Foreseen

Much Excitement Among Mataafa's People

Interviews With Prominent Men.

San Francisco, May 12.—The little town of Apia has had the appearance of a camping ground during the last few weeks. Since the hurricane occurred on March 16 in which six men-of-war were wrecked, living ashore there have been more people here than ever before known in the history of the place. Nearly all the survivors of the three German war ships have gone to Sydney and the other 600 American sailors who composed the crews of the Trenton and Vandalia have been waiting for a steamer to be sent to take them to San Francisco.

The great confusion after the storm subsided in a few days and the shipwrecked sailors settled down to the daily routine of saving everything that could be taken of the wrecked vessels. The officers and men of the Vandalia are in a more dejected condition than those of any other vessel, they having lost everything, and have been provided with clothing and other necessities saved from the Trenton and Vandalia.

By the death of Captain Schoonmaker the command of the Vandalia was devolved on Lieutenant J. W. Carlin, Past Assistant Engineer. Whether he had been appointed acting paymaster of the vessel caused by the death of Paymaster F. H. Arms.

Both vessels are complete wrecks. The hull of the Vandalia is a mass of splintered wood, and her masts and rigging are still standing, but she is a hard and fast on the bottom, with her stern resting on the sand. The Vandalia is a small ship, and she is a hard and fast on the bottom, with her stern resting on the sand.
